

Worried about the sale of your home because the basement is wet, or the crawl space is nasty?

Just ask your realtor. Problems with your homes structure cause delays in any resale transaction. As well, you may lose valuable equity while negotiating to have a foundation or building envelope problem dealt with. Repairing a known issue before you list your home will save you money.

For example, home inspectors are highlighting foundation and basement problems more often. Energy Efficiency improvements target vented crawl spaces. Is it a wise idea to market your home with a known deficiency that will be identified during an inspection?

We give you the answers and solutions you need!

We provide quotes for repairs, either pre-listing or after home inspections. These fees are completely deductible should you hire us to perform the work. This includes a written report on what we find in the crawl space, basement, and attic, etc and how best to provide a solution.

All of our warranties are nationally backed and transferable! And our warranties are very long term!

We can help finance the repair so that the payment for the job comes from the lawyer during the transfer of title. Or you can pay us by credit card to collect those valuable points! Either way, if you don't fix it, it will cost you more money in lost equity. If you do fix it, it's an easier sale and you save $$$ because you SOLVED the problem!
